Arab Attack on Bus Kills U.S. Tourist

JERUSALEM (AP) — Arab terrorists attacked a busload of Americans touring the Holy Land in occupied Jordan today and killed one woman and wounded three others, the Israeli military command announced.

The attack came on the heels of weekend explosions aboard airliners in Europe-one bound for Israel with passengers and the other carrying Israeli mail.

One of the planes, a Swiss jetliner, crashed in Switzerland, killing all 47 persons on board. In Bern, the Swiss government imposed new and strict restrictions on Arab nationals entering Switzerland. It also decided to call an international conference on aviation security.

But the Swiss, although officially suspecting sabotage of the Swissair plane, did not come up with a verdict on the cause of the crash on Saturday.

The Israeli government also called for action to halt what it called air piracy and terrorism.

But in Amman, Jordan's capital, Dr. George Habash, leader of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said his guerrilla group will continue attacking planes of the Israeli airline El Al all over the world.

"This is within our strategy," he said, "since El Al planes are part of Israel's air force."

The woman killed was identified as Barbara Artell, a spokeswoman at Jerusalem's Hadassah Hospital said. An evacuated the wounded to a hospital in Jerusalem while Israeli security forces surrounded the area.

There were 37 American tourists, a guide and a driver on the bus when it came under fire about 3 p.m.—8 a.m. EST.

A spokesman for the Proper Tourist Agency, in charge of the tour, said the Americans all were from the New York area and were on a Christian pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

The leader of the tour was identified only as the Rev. Draper.

His sister, Lucille Draper, was one of the wounded, a Ministry of Tourism spokesman said.

A tourist bus was ambushed at dusk late last year en route from Beersheba to Hebron and an American passenger was killed.

Israeli army troops swarmed over the Hebron area in a massive search for the ambushers.

His sister, Lucille Draper, was one of the wounded, a Ministry of Tourism spokesman said.

Soil District Holds First Annual Meeting

BY CHARLES BRADY

ORAN — Approximately 100 attended the first annual Scott county Soil and Water Conservation district meeting at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Knights of Columbus Hall. K. M. Streeter, chairman of the Scott county organization, was master of ceremonies.

Louie Hirschowitz, mayor of Oran, gave the opening address following a banquet dinner. Entertainment was provided by Larry Seyer on the electric guitar.

Louis Watkins, treasurer of the Scott county organization, gave its history.

The district was started in 1963.

Tom Stroup, county extension director, gave a talk on the accomplishments of the organization.

Mrs. Elsie Streeter, chairman of the auxiliary of the district, introduced Congressman Bill D. Burlison.

Burlison's speech was directed at a new farm program in a bill expected to pass from he house in March.

The main point of the bill, Burlison explained, is the set-aside program proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Hardin.

It was conceded that the majority of farmers don't approve of the program, especially the cotton producers.

An example of what the program means: If a person had a 500-acre farm with a 100-acre cotton allotment, under the set-aside program at least 50 per cent of the allotment would be set-aside.

This means that the owner of the farm could plant any crop he wishes on the remaining 450 acres but on the 50 cotton allotment, the farmer could plant nothing except grass. There would be no payment on the idle 50 acres.

The strategy is to get the wheat farmer out of the cotton area and the cotton farmer out of the wheat area.

Bombing Nears DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made heavy strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos today for the seventh consecutive day and ranged to within a mile of the denilitarized zone.

Informed sources said about half of the 30,000 tons of bombs dropped by the big bombers so far this month have been on supply depots and infiltration corridors in eastern Laos, to cut down the movement of troops and war materials into South Vietnam.

Informed sources also said about 50 B52s made heavy raids up and down the Ho Chi Minh trail Sunday and today, dropping 1,500 tons of explosives.

The U.S. Command, which reports only B52 strikes flown in South Vietnam, said one fivebomber mission attacked supply depots and staging areas along the coast, a mile below the DMZ.

They were the closest raids to the DMZ reported since Dec. 14.

Fifteen miles farther west along the DMZ, North Vietnamese gunners shot down a U.S. Army Cobra helicopter gunship, but the two-man crew was rescued unhurt.

Sources in Saigon said they had indications that North Vietnamese replacements were beginning to arrive in the 3rd Corps area stretching from Saigon 100 miles north to the Cambodian border.

"There has been little activity in the 3rd Corps in the past two weeks," said one source. "We expect an increase in activity in the coming week. We are waiting for the initiation of the enemy's spring campaign."

William Huff Seeks School Board Post

William S. Huff, 274 North Ranney, announced his candidacy today for the Sikeston R-6 school board.

When asked why he was running, Huff replied: "I remember reading that Will Rogers once said that most of us are with educating our children 'about like the weather—a lot of talkin, but not actual doin.' I'm concerned enough to get involved in 'actual doin.'"

Married to the former Alice Van Horne, of Sikeston, three daughters include two in Sikeston schools now — Tricia, a high school junior, and second-grader Stephanie. The oldest, Greer, is a sophomore at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

Huff graduated from the University of Missouri with a BS Degree in Business Administration. He also studied and received credits from Baylor University, Waco, Texas, Eastern Kentucky State College and Ft. Smith (Ark.) Junior College.

His business interests include ownership of the Stallings-Huff Agency, Inc., insurance and real estate; partnership in the Hubbard & Huff farming operation; and presidency of The Village Green, Inc., a real estate development firm.

The 1967-68 president of the Sikeston Chamber of Commerce, he also served as a director for four years. Other civic activities include the Lions Club, treasurer of Cape Girardeau Council Navy League, Elks Club, American Legion and Scott County Farm Bureau. An interest in school affairs has led to being a past president and vice-president of the Lee Hunter and High School PTA's. Concerned, too, with scouting his several years as district finance chairman of Cotton Boll Council resulted in being honored as an Honorary Girl Scout.

He's on the Board of Stewards of the first United Methodist Church.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Overheard: "I feel foolish when I realize I didn't trust my son with the Ford and now he flies the big jets."

THE IRONY OF WAR

Probably no "war" in the history of our country has been so confusing to so many people as the one in which we are involved now in Vietnam. We put "war" in quote marks in our editorial context, because there is even some question among our highest authorities as to whether, technically speaking, we are "at war". No war has officially been declared; the savage conflict in which we are involved, and in which we have committed thousands of American troops and lost thousands more in deaths and injuries just seemed to grow like Topsy. Furthermore, several Presidents of the United States including the man now in office, have declared that "it is not our objective to win a war; it is our purpose and policy to deter aggression" ... or words very close to those.

Just how we are going to stop the Communists from taking over South Vietnam - without trying to "win" - is, of course, the $164 question, and one that can start a real good argument with almost anybody at the mere drop of a hat. We have been hoping that Mr. Nixon would be a little more direct, and a little more precise, in spelling out American policy in Vietnam than has his predecessors. Unfortunately, however, the President has left many fuzzy edges all around the Vietnamese question. All we know is, from the experienced position of this Editor's chair, that if you stop any ten people and ask them about Vietnam, you will very probably get ten different interpretations as to why we are there, how we got there in the first place, what we really intend to do, whether our efforts have been worthwhile or a waste, and whether, in the end, the Communists will win or lose.

But, if there is confusion here, there are signs that some of the enemy is terribly confused, too. The Congressional Record on February 5, tells the story of a young Vietnamese girl brought by her Aunt for treatment to a U.S. Air Force doctor, Capt. Jerold D. Albright of Haven, Kansas, stationed at an American hospital in the Mekong Delta area. The girl suffered ghastly wounds; both of her hands had been blown off at the wrists. After Dr. Albright had treated the girl as best he could, she told him that she was helping her Aunt, a Communist Viet Cong, to plant a bomb under the seat of the doctor's jeep in order to kill him... but the fiendish device went off prematurely. How ironic that when disaster struck, the Communist woman took her niece not to her "comrades," but to the American they intended to murder! And at what an awful cost to the unfortunate girl.

All wars produce their ironic stories, but the Vietnam war seems to have more than its share. We can but pray that out of all the confusion, the horror and the tragedy of Vietnam there will come liberty, and justice, and freedom for the people of Vietnam.

You can be sure that money still talks, but it's harder to get enough to raise the volume to where you can hear it.

HOCKEY BOOM

Yes, for speed and pep and action there is only one attraction, You'll see knockouts there a dozen for a dime. When the steel blades are ringing and the shinny sticks are swinging, Give me hockey -- I'll take hockey -- any time!

The 1970 World Hockey Championships, which open in Bucharest, Romania, on Tuesday, Feb. 24, are not likely to match the 1969 championships in athletic and political drama. Last year's matches in Stockholm saw the Soviet team twice defeated by Czechoslovakia. Each of these games was followed by victory celebrations with anti-Soviet overtones in Prague.

At the end of the 1969 competition, the Soviet, Swedish and Czechoslovak teams all had 8-0-2 records. But the Soviet team led the others in terms of goals scored vs. goals allowed and thus was awarded the championship for the seventh straight time. The United States team, with a dismal 0-0-10 record, finished last in Group A competition and therefore will play in Group B in Romania. East Germany, the 1969 Group B winner, moves up into Group A.

If each national hockey team consisted of the country's best players, Canada would dominate the world championship tournament as the Soviet Union does now. The trouble is that Canada's top players perform for the professional National Hockey League or one of the minor pro leagues. The Soviet and other Communist bloc teams have managed to preserve the fiction that they are composed of amateurs.

Meanwhile, professional hockey continues to boom. The N.H.L., which doubled in size from six to 12 teams before the start of the 1967-68 season, will expand again late this year. New franchises have been awarded to Buffalo and Vancouver at $6 million apiece -- three times the entry fee charged the present six expansion teams. But with home-game sellouts commonplace and television revenue increasing, even $6 million may prove a bargain price in the long run.

Ben Franklin said it: "Rob not God, nor the poor, lest thou ruin thyself; the eagle snatched a coal from the altar, but it fired her nest."

F. T. Schumacher says: "Since woman's life is four years longer than man's you'd think she could wait about having the last word."

Bob Scott says: "A man with plenty of knowledge is only as good as his know-how."

Double Standard. At Fort Devens, Mass., Donald Potter began Army paratrooper training after the Navy rejected him because he would neither remove his nude tattoo nor drape her.

IT'S THE ENEMY WITHIN WHICH PERILS U. S.

In its swan - song report to the nation, the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence fingered the greatest enemy facing the United States in the immediate years ahead.

In Pogo's immortal words, "It is us." Our most serious challenges to date have been external - the kind this strong and resourceful country could unite against, said the commission, which was created by President Johnson in 1968 following the assassination of Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy.

Now, however, stated its 13 members in a unanimous voice, "While serious external dangers remain, the graver threats today are internal."

These include haphazard urbanization, racial discrimination, disfigurement of the environment, the dislocation of human identity and motivation - "all resulting in a rising tide of individual and group violence."

The commission recommends that when the Vietnam war ends the nation increase annual welfare expenditures by about $20 billion, partly by reducing military expenditures and partly by increased tax revenues resulting from growth of the gross national product. Welfare spending should continue to increase "until essential social goals are realized."

"The greatness and durability of most civilizations has been finally determined by how they have responded to these challenges from within," the commission summed up. "Ours will be no exception."

Few persons in or out of government have either hailed this last report, along with its forerunners, as a much-needed, 11th-hour warning or championed it as a blue-print for a brighter national future. Nevertheless, commission members believe that the message is slowly sinking into the national conscience.

"If in five years nothing has happened," says chairman Milton S. Eisenhower, "I shall be the most disappointed man in America."

It is to be hoped that he has not underestimated the individual citizen's capacity to ignore the perils which do not threaten him immediately and directly.

As Richard H. Rovere noted recently, all of us alive today in the "developed" countries grew up with technology. All the causes of our present laments could have been foreseen decades ago.

"Given a few facts about the chemistry of the environment and the impact on it of population and advanced technology, any man of modest literacy could have charted the route from the recent past to the present and on to the questionable future," he writes. "The agonies of the cities in the late '60s should have been predictable in the middle years of the Depression, if not long before."

But prophets are seldom honored, especially prophets of gloom.

Anyway, no one is actually gagging for his life's breath on polluted air. No one is dropping over from diseases spread by rivers we have turned into sewers.

The mathematics of population growth may be unarguable, but most people as yet see no real reason why they should not bring a fourth of fifth or sixth child into the world.

There is still plenty of countryside for the suburbs to spread into. The balance of nature may be imperiled, but the stores are still stocked with food.

Despite all the fearful talk about crime, it is for the most part confined to the black ghettos, which one can easily drive around in his new car on the new freeways.

Organized crime - the kind of crime that takes money from everyone's pocket and most directly threatens the health of society - is largely regarded with indifference by the public, even in the face of revelations, as lately in New Jersey, of how widely it has corrupted law enforcement and government and how deeply it has penetrated legitimate businesses.

Dr. Eisenhower's optimism to the contrary, things may have to get much worse, much more quickly, before Americans decide to do what has to be done to make them better.

Not about to be upstaged by ticker tape parades in New York and Chicago and presidential dinners in Los Angeles, Ohio has turned to Arthur Goldberg to lead them into the promised land. They believe he's the only man who can defeat Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. He agrees with them.

He's ready for the blitz though he'll have to defeat five, and his president, Jack Potofsky, possibly, six, other hopefuls in the primaries. Hilton, who was chairman of President Johnson's 1964 task force on transportation policy, has his way. Particularly, he'd like to see a $5 tax levied against motorists who drive downtown at rush hour.

Selective Service ONE OF MY buddies in Viet Nam received word from his girl friend in the States that she decided not to wait for him and was going to marry someone else, reports a serviceman. Furious, my friend devised an eloquent form of reply.

With the help of the rest of us he collected hundreds of photos, snapshots, pin-up girls, etc., and packed them elaborately in a large box. Then he shipped it to the unfaithful girl.

When she opens the box, she will find this note: "Please pick out your picture and return the rest to me. This is a little embarrassing, but I don't remember which one is yours."

We never did get our pictures back, but we figure it was worth it.

Doc. Duncan Says

Dear Editor: Seems like more and more big boys in the drivers seat is waking up to that 10 million potential voters 18 to 21 who has been educated in our schools to live for the here, fore there ain't no hereafter, then too nobody wants the job as top man to herd the kids into the chute on their way to carve out new nations in Asia, some say better use the taxpayers (consumers) money at home, lest we win overthere and lose over here.

Maybe two thirds of the 18 to 21 year olds will be voting in '72, and will refuse any party label, since it is plain to be seen that questions are decided by both old parties on economics first, and party second, that is, the economics what effects their pocket-book and to heck with others. Looks like some of the fights along party lines in Washington and elsewhere may wind up by tossin out some mers-backs and replasing them with young blood on presation, and they may listen to the people, and return the soleries and trimmins back to where they us to be and where they orto be. The silent majority may surprise some folks too, the moms and pops of the voteless 10 million.

H.L. Hunt Says

NO SUPERPATRIOTS The word superpatriot is sometimes used in a derogatory sense as applied to anyone who feels and does not hesitate to express a love of country. But the term is meaningless. There are no superpatriots. Either one is a patriot or a non-patriot and some people, sad to say, are anti-patriots. The so-called superpatriots warned against the communist takeover of mainland China, against the "no win" policy followed after North Korea attacked South Korea, against the U. S. State Department's softness toward Fidel Castro in Cuba, and in general against efforts to appease the communist anti-freedom conspiracy. The anti-patriots in the United States have contended that we must try to "understand" the communists. They have used the slogan, "Better Red than dead." And the non-patriots, the apathetic and indifferent, have unfortunately stood aside.

The non-patriots do not care enough about America. They would see their country go down if they thought they could be assured of safety and security. But there is no positive assurance of safety and security in this world. Freedom and justice have to be struggled for, and they are worth the struggle.

A patriot is an individual who will live and fight for personal liberty and the freedom of his country. They are synonymous. Labeling a patriot a superpatriot is a derisory attempt to ridicule the lover of his country.

Actually, the patriot can accept the label as a tribute to himself, for love of country and a willingness to fight in its defense constitute the mark of a noble person. H.L.H.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

RETURNS TO BATTLE: Arthur Goldberg Set To Tackle Gov. Rockefeller.

Plans Drive to Revive NEW YORK: — Influential Democrats, needing a powerful aspirant to ease their splitting political headaches, once more have turned to Arthur Goldberg to lead them into the promised land. They believe he's the only man who can defeat Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. He agrees with them.

He's ready for the blitz though he'll have to defeat five, and his president, Jack Potofsky, possibly, six, other hopefuls in the primaries. But the prize is great for this man who has had almost everything. Reversing his decision to quit and recasting himself, he has been meeting with county chairmen. He has turned to the pros, the vote getters, and has turned from the amateurish noisemakers who have been costing the Democrats election after election.

All he wants is the support of the party machinery in his battles with Gene McCarthy's such as the seafarers' Paul Hall New Democratic Coalition "reformers."

He's so ready to hit the streets that he has listened (for the first time) to those who, with careful deference, have not in so many words, but quite clearly, advised him to top being stuffy, to forget his "exes," ex-Ambassador, ex-Supreme Court Justice, ex-Secretary of Labor, ex-labor lawyer, and get with it. Just plain Arthur. Stop having his secretary call saying "The Justice would like to talk with you."

Few minds read rhetorical shorthand as quickly as Justice Goldberg's. He's ready to get it because driving Nelson Rockefeller from the governor's mansion would make him and the New York State Democratic Party the most influential forces in the national organization. They could unite it. They could control the '72 nominating convention. They could name the presidential slate. They could tackle President Nixon. There is, strangely enough, one big but. Arthur Goldberg will have difficulty getting significant labor support—meaning money and manpower without which no Democratic nominee can roll out a clangorous campaign. powerful political leader

There's a strange phenomenon in this Empire State -- labor, right, left and center, is with the Republicans. At this moment gravel-voiced, gregarious, Nelson Rockefeller, to play nitty-gritty politics; he's got to hit the streets. He knows what blintzes, pizzas and hot dogs are. Let him start eating them in public and the opposition will eat crow.

If not, he added, "Arthur should go back to his farm in old Virginia."

But for the moment it's been going steady for years. They've cooperated with him to Italian cooks are famous for skill with all kinds of pasta. In northern Italy, the cooks have an equally winning way with rice. The Po Valley provides Europe with most of its rice supply. The rice delicacy is called RISOTTO, which is simply the Italian term for rice dish. Risotto cooks in a skillet with a minimum of water...bouillon and meat juices in the same pan provide a more flavorful simmering liquid. Grated Parmesan generally goes into the dish.

VEAL RISOTTO
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove garlic
2 pounds boneless veal round or shoulder, cut in 1 1/4-inch cubes
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons catchup
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper
1 cup water
1 cup bouillon
1 cup uncooked rice
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese heat butter in large skillet. Add garlic and veal and cook over medium heat until meat is browned on all sides. Remove garlic. Add onion and continue cooking until onion is tender. Stir in catchup, salt, Tabasco pepper sauce, water and bouillon; bring to a boil. Cover and cook over low heat 1 to 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Remove meat and measure liquid, adding water to make 3 cups. Return liquid to skillet and bring to a boil. Add rice, cover and cook 20 to 25 minutes until rice is tender and most of liquid has been absorbed. Add meat and Parmesan cheese and heat to serving temperature.

YIELD: 6 servings.

MILITANTS AT ETON
LONDON (AP) — A group of Etonians belonging to a militant organization called the Schools Action Union have attacked the use of corporal punishment, uniforms, the prefect system, and other "manifestations of an autocratic system" at their famous school.

They insist that "it is time for a constructive democratic system" to take over at Eton.

During this year, Bendy and Monie have drifted into the mood needed to write several more songs. Monie comments, "We only write when Bendy has a math test the next day...And we can't compose when we're trying. You can tell they're very moody songs, too."

To date, the songs have no titles. Concerning this, Bendy remarked "If they're titled the listener focuses his thoughts on the title, and he can't relate the song to his own feelings. If we did title them, we'd be limiting the potential of thoughts."

Both girls are members of the Concert Choir and Bendy is also a member of Choralaires. The Choir is taking a tour during spring quarter break and Bendy will perform some of the songs they wrote.

Problems of Consumer Advocate
Include Sofa With Broken Leg

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's consumer advocate is getting a first-hand taste of the citizen frustrations which pour into her office daily.

Virginia Knauer, a homemaker, mother and grandmother when she's not fielding the complaints of consumers, can't seem to get her sofa fixed.

"The buyer has the right to register his dissatisfaction and have his complaint heard and weighed when his interests are badly served," said President Nixon in his "Buyer's Bill of Rights" last October.

But Mrs. Knauer says she's had a little trouble getting satisfaction since a new sofa was delivered to her home last August.

"Can you imagine sending out a sofa with a broken leg?" she asks. "And badly... badly stitched together. I could have done a better job."

Mrs. Knauer is pleased with the response she gets when she approaches manufacturers about the 2,000 to 3,000 letters and complaints she gets in her office every month.

She managed to convince a floor tile firm it should replace a cracked floor for one woman. For one man she managed to get his refrigerator warranty extended because the appliance had been in repair shops for half the original three-year warranty.

But what's happened with the sofa replacement she was promised?

"Now they're not even sure that they ordered the one they promised to deliver sometime between August and the first of October. I think the first of November at the latest they would have had the new sofa," she says.

"So at this point I've gotten a little defeatist about it," she says. She jokingly suggests calling a news conference, but she doesn't mention the name of the large Washington department store involved.

"And this isn't schlock furniture. This was good furniture. Which shows that maybe I should have stuck to antiques."

"I think this is unconscionable. I'm so busy solving other people's problems, I don't have time to take care of my own."

90% of today's prescriptions contain drugs unknown just a few short years ago

Many of today's "wonder drugs" are only adolescents in the developing world of scientific miracles. The hypertension drugs made their debut with Rauwiloid in 1953. And in 1954, tranquilizers were first released for public consumption... the same year Jonas Salk led the way for the dramatic breakthrough in polio control. In 1962, enzymes were introduced to accelerate tissue repair and reduce inflammation. Going back a little further we find that penicillin... which has proved so life saving... has been in use since 1941. It was only in 1950 that the antihistamines first appeared on your Pharmacist's shelves. Roommates Combine Talents To Compose Folk Music and Lift Moods

There's a rare relationship between close roommates. Each composes to hopeful honeymoon adapt to certain characteristics havens, God and death. They of the other after a few months they begin to know each other so well of life together. Eventually that each shares in the life of the other.

Each gets to see the other at his or her ultimate worst, but they still get along. There's something special about that.

Many people believe everyone has some special talent, whether apparent or overt. Belinda (Bendy) Ayers and Ramona (Monie) Mathias, roommates at Oakland City College, Oakland City, Ind. combine their talents to write folk music. Monie writes lyrics and Bendy builds music behind them.

Bendy, a junior elementary education major from Sikeston and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Ayers of 905 Alexander was motivated to learn guitar in high school. Her mother's remark to the effect that she would never learn to play gave Bendy the incentive she needed. She proceeded to work with chords and subsequently taught herself to play the guitar.

Monie is a sophomore elementary education major from Portland (Tenn.). "My mother always wanted me to be in some kind of journalism work. But I don't think she had music in mind," she said.

Cape Seeded Number One

Next Monday sixteen class L regional basketball tournaments get underway in Missouri. One hundred and eighteen teams representing the largest schools in Missouri will see action before the week closes, which will decide state tournament entries.

The local Regional, to be held in the spacious Sikeston Field House, will have teams representing Sikeston, Cape Girardeau, Kennett, Perryville, Jackson, Poplar Bluff, and Charleston in attendance.

Action begins at 7 p.m. Monday, March 2, with the top-seeded Cape Central Bengals meeting the Jackson Indians. The Tigers just last week clinched the championship of the Southeast Missouri Conference, the local Class L conference, with an 83-71 defeat of the Sikeston Bulldogs. The Cape Girardeau possess a 13-7 slate and have rolled over the Tournaments second and third seeded teams, Poplar Bluff and Sikeston, in posting their modest record.

Action ensues again Tuesday, March 3, with Charleston doing battle with the Perryville Pirates in the 7:00 contest and the defending Champion Sikeston Bulldogs hosting Kennett in the 8:30 encounter. Charleston is seeded fourth in the Regional and has already beat the Pirates once in conference play. Last year's Regional winner, the Sikeston Bulldogs, hit the Tartan in the final first-round action game against the Kennett Indians. Sikeston's slate stands at a disappointing 7-8 as of Saturday, but has registered upset highlights over Poplar Bluff and Class M power Richland. In earlier competition, the third-seeded Dogs split with Kennett as they took a 35-33 win in the dome and lost in the Poplar Bluff Invitational Tournament by the score of 48-46.

Poplar Bluff, the tournament's second-ranked team, drew the only bye of the week's action. Bluffs wait until Wednesday, March 5, to do their first battle as they tangle with the winner of the Sikeston-Kennett encounter in the semi-final round. Both semi-final round games will be played Wednesday with the Bluff contest and the winners of the Cape-Jackson and Charleston-Perryville games greeting each other. The championship of the Regional will be decided Friday, March 6, at 8:30.

No matter who wins the tournament, Southeast Missouri is sure to be well represented on March 9 in Cape's Houck Field House against the winner of the Hillsboro Regional.

McLain Waiting

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — While Denny McLain remained in limbo, the Detroit Tiger pitching star is getting many job offers, primarily to entertain in nightclubs.

But the 24-year-old right-hander said Sunday he can't accept any of them until he is more definite about his future in baseball.

McLain, who plays the organ and also sings, said he had had a lot of other job offers.

"But I'll just wait to find out what's going on because I want to play baseball more than anything else," he said.

McLain had just returned from playing a round of golf but basically he has been living in seclusion since being indefinitely suspended from baseball Thursday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Kuhn said the suspension was a result of McLain's "involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities."

Who Will It be?

Who will it be? That's the big question in the college basketball world this week and it will be answered on several fronts.

In the wake of UCLA's stunning 78-65 loss to Oregon, who will be No. 1 when The Associated Press releases its weekly poll Monday night?

Who will be chosen when the NCAA and National Invitation Tournaments start sending out their bids Tuesday?

The answer to the first question should come from among UCLA, 21-1; Kentucky, 21-1, and St. Bonaventure, 19-1, who ranked 1-3 last week. Other once-beaten teams are Jacksonville, 20-1, and Penn, 20-1, and owner of the nation's longest winning streak at 16.

The NCAA Tournament which needs 10 at-large teams in addition to the 15 conference champions who qualify automatically, is expected to tap Jacksonville and St. Bonaventure in the East, Marquette and Notre Dame in the Midwest, Houston and Dayton in the Midwest and New Mexico State and Utah State in the West.

Western Kentucky became the first to gain the 25-team field when the Hilltoppers whipped Morehead State 96-74 behind Jim McDaniel's 36 points Saturday night and clinched the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

The NIT probably will go for Niagara, St. John's and Louisiana State—as soon as the Tigers are officially eliminated from the Southeastern Conference race—for its 16-team field.

But the talk of the weekend was Oregon's trouncing of UCLA, last major unbeaten team. The Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, were unbeaten in 1967-68, lost to Houston by two points in 1967-68, lost to Southern California by two last year and had reeled off 21 straight wins this season.

Stan Love, the Pacific Eight's leading scorer, and sophomore Rusty Blair each scored 19 points for Oregon and Blair hit five straight shots early in the second half.

"They whipped us on offense and defense," said UCLA's John Wooden. "Not in 10 years can I remember any team of mine shooting as poorly as we did and getting beaten on the boards as badly."

But Wooden also noted that "the pressure is off us now," which might be bad news for UCLA's remaining opponents.

Steve Belko, Oregon's coach, said, "I honestly thought before the start that we had a good chance to beat them if we played our type of game. And ... we did just that."

Despite the setback, UCLA has a two-game lead over Oregon in the Pac-8 with four games left. Kentucky can clinch a tie in the SEC by beating Alabama tonight and can win it all if Louisiana State loses to Tennessee.

In a wild shootout Saturday, LSU's Pete Maravich outscored Kentucky's Dan Issel 64-61 but the Wildcats spoiled Pet's home finale 121-106. Big Bob Bonaventure's 71-61 defeat of Long Island U.

South Carolina ranked fourth, and No. 9 Davidson kept rolling along but both must win

Record Setting Night

POPLAR BLUFF — Three records were broken Saturday night during the final home appearance of Three Rivers junior college Raiders, as 868 points sat in and watched as TRJC moved within one game of sharing the conference basketball title as it turned back Florissant Valley of St. Louis, 85-70 despite a 32 point scoring performance by the Norsemen's Don Nelson to record its 20th victory of the season.

Coach Bob Cradic's Raiders play at Flat River tonight and can clinch a tie for the league title with Meramec Mineral Area was the last team to defeat the Raiders.

Miss Sharon Armour of Naylor, Mo. was crowned homecoming queen.

The records set were the 20th win, attendance and the 32 points by Nelson, which was a conference scoring mark against TRJC.

Roy Fields continued his torrid scoring pace by leading the Raiders with 22 points. Leonard Bishop added 15, John Johnson 14 and Fred Johnson 13 while four others scored for TRJC.

TRJC sped into a 37-27 first half lead and never trailed in recording its 20th victory against six defeats, three of which were in league play.

Miss Rhonda Matlock of West Plains, Mo. was the first alternate and Miss Diana Pennington of Poplar Bluff was second alternate to TRJC homecoming queen Miss Sharon Armour.

Bulldogs Drop Below .500

JACKSON -- The Sikeston Bulldogs were probably more to be pitied than anyone to see the frontliner collected almost all of his points from the fifteen to eighteen foot range, with only as far as SHS basketball is concerned. The Dogs lost a heart-breaker to Cape Central Friday and returned north only to add another blemish to their record at the hands of the Jackson Indians 69-53. The Dogs fell below the .500 mark with Saturday's defeat as their state now stands at 7-8.

At the beginning, it looked as if the tempo of the contest was going to be slow as almost two minutes passed before either team could manage a point. Lee King started off the night's scoring with a fifteen foot bucket, but only after 1:44 had elapsed in the opening period. The score stood at 2-2 shortly after but after that the Dogs might as well have gotten back on the bus for the rest of the entire game was Jackson's. At the end of the opening period, the score board showed Jackson 18- Sikeston 5. The Dogs were obviously down-trodden after losing the game which settled the North Division Conference title and in no mood to play Saturday night's contest. Their mood was just about matched in reverse by Jackson's enthusiasm, as the Indians continued to capitalize on the gloomy Dogs floor mistakes. Lee King was the only one able to find the range for the visitors during the first half as he cashed in for 10 of the Dogs' 21 points. Meanwhile, John Walker was busy surpassing King's performance on the other end of the court as he pumped in thirteen in the Indians big first.

The second half was much the same as the first, as the Dogs stayed in the dumps until the fourth when they finally began to reel off some points. The Tribe had a big twenty-two point margin entering the fourth, but closed the game sixteen ahead. The Dogs were hurt badly in the second half by fouls, as Jackson put a total of fourteen through the hoop along with only ten field shots. In the first half, the home-town squad had managed 16 outside shots. Lee King, the Bulldog's first half hotshot, poured in an additional twelve in the second

B-Team Eases Wound

By DAVID CRADER
JACKSON — The Sikeston Junior Varsity Bulldogs demolished the Jackson Junior varsity Indians 82-59 Saturday night. The basketball victory for the Dogs followed a setback the night before at the hands of Cape Central 45-29 and was the only win in 4 SHS weekend battles. The Indians became the ninth victim of the JV Dogs against four setbacks, one from each, and two from Cape leave the JV seasonal record at a comfortable 9-4 mark.

The JV Dogs close out their season next Friday as they once again travel north to battle the Perryville JV Pirates.

The first quarter elapsed with the JV Indians trailing the Dogs by four points 17-13, the closest margin in the game. Before half-time had rolled around, the Dogs had scrambled their way into a decisive lead that continued throughout the game. Odell Howard had poured in 14 points, while Herman Prince had connected for 13 in the first half before the dogs rolled into the half-time break, 44-28.

The second half of the contest proved to be similar to the first period, for the lead and momentum was still the Dogs. They continued to outscore the Indians in every quarter, while all of the members of the Sikeston squad saw action. In an over-all effort, the JV Dogs collected 38 field goals to the Indians 22. Despite the present scoring spree for the Dogs, only six points came from the cold charity line as the Dogs hit for a chilly 38% from the free throw line. The Indians connected for 15 free shots in a 52% night from the stripe.

Odell Howard lead the Dogs in scoring as he shoveled in 19 points in the contest. Herman Prince ended the game with 17 connections, while teammate Sam Tucker added 15. Thirteen members of the Sikeston squad placed points on the scoreboard before the night had concluded. Jackson's leading scorer was Ford, who hit 16 points in the contest. Teammates Hanscher and Sides added 11 and 10 points respectively to the Indian total.

TYREE BROWN holding a silver tray plaque he received from the community of Bell City in appreciation of his Boy Scout leadership.

Bell City Honors Boy Scout Leader

BELL CITY - Tyree Brown was honored by the community of Bell City as a Boy Scout leader in a surprise ceremony at the high school gymnasium. The program began with an invocation by C. G. Lemmons, followed by a pot-luck supper in the high school cafeteria. After the supper, everyone went to the gymnasium for the court of honor and a skit entitled "The Bugle Blows - or - A Typical Day At Camp Lewallen". Scout leaders with scouts and their parents, cubs and their parents, girl scouts and their parents, and interested friends were invited guests. John Maynard, Methodist minister, conducted the presentation of the scout executive who were present for this memorable occasion were: Connie Hay, council scout executive from Cape Girardeau and Larry Gillis, district executive from Dexter. These were: Bill Knoderer, Brady Henson, Dennis Scherer and Fred Brown. Along with these young men, those who had completed their requirements for the God and Country Award were: Terry Eakin, Phil Stevens, David Swindell and Thom Lemmons. The Court of Honor was followed by a number of announcements and the renewal of the charter by the Methodist Men's Club. The skit followed and a pre-determined part in the skit, a trumpet fanfare sounded, beginning the narration entitled, "This is Your Life, Tyree Brown", by Mrs. Dale E. Shumaker, mistress of ceremony. This of course, was the high point in the evening and a complete surprise not only to Mr. Brown but to many of the people in the audience. In this narration, various stages of Tyree's life were told by those who knew him then. Those participants were: Mr. & Mrs. B. Rust Brown, his parents; Joseph Brown, his brother; Mrs. Lizzie Gross; Miss Mary Brown, his sister; Mr. Jim Delay, a classmate; Frances Brown, his wife; Fred Brown, his son; Tom Womack, a scouting associate; Robert Scherer, Assistant Scoutmaster and Bill Knoderer, one of his scouts.

Britain Holds up

Plan to Abandon Overtime Notorious Sixpence Coin

LONDON (AP) - Treasury Minister William Rogers says the British government is holding up its plans to abandon the sixpence as part of its conversion to the decimal currency system. The little silver coin, worth six U. S. cents, is the most common piece of change in the Briton's pockets. Plans to scrap it next year after 419 years of circulation touched off protests from members of Parliament, shopkeepers and the general public. Save Our Sixpence, a group campaigning to retain the coin, contended that if it was abolished, the price of most sixpenny items would rise. The London transport authority said if the coin was retained it would cancel plans to raise the minimum bus and subway fare from sixpence to 12 cents. Officials said the increase was necessary to pay for new equipment to handle other coins.

Rogers told the House of Commons that the chancellor of the exchequer had asked the decimal currency board for a report on the situation by Easter.

Bank Robber Applies For Welfare Aid

NEW YORK (AP) - Bank robber Willie "The Actor" Sutton, who once estimated his criminal take at $2 million, has applied for welfare assistance. At a Brooklyn Welfare center Thursday, Sutton, 68, was promised $78 a month plus half the cost of his rent. Sutton said he was staying with Brooklyn relatives. Sutton was released from prison last Christmas Eve after a 17-year stretch behind bars.

ATTENDANCE UP AT CHICAGO MUSEUM CHICAGO (AP) - Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, frequently termed the Windy City's "leading tourist attraction," hit a new attendance mark in 1969 with 3,261,983 viewing its exhibits. Daniel M. MacMaster, the museum's president, said this was the fifth consecutive year during which attendance went over the three million mark. The museum continued its extensive services as a practical aid to formal education in welcoming more than a half a million students in more than 10,000 organized groups from nearly every state in the country during the year.

Prince Charles Plans

To Serve Navy Hitch
LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, 21-year-old heir to the British throne, has decided to do a hitch in the Royal Navy.
Buckingham Palace announced he will serve four months with the Royal Air Force after graduating from Cambridge University in June and will enter Dartmouth Naval College in September 1971.

"He will go into the Navy under the graduates entry who practice here for several years," the announcement said. Then he will decide whether he wants to serve for a further period.
Charles' father, Prince Philip, King George VI, and his grandfather, King George V, were all Royal Navy men.

If You Were the Judge

Veterinarian Not Adequate Counsel

Private Dinkle tried to make a name for himself, but the name wasn't his. As a result, he was charged with forgery. If Hoople was appointed to defend him at his court martial. For Hoople was a veterinarian.

"Somebody's kidding me," protested Dinkle at the opening of the court martial. "If I'm going to have to stand trial, I want a lawyer to defend me and not a horse doctor. After all, I'm charged with a crime and not with having hoof and mouth disease."

"In the army," Dinkle was informed, "all a soldier is entitled to at a court martial is an officer to defend him. And, you've got a good one. Hoople knows his oats."

Despite all his saying, however, Dinkle was forced to stand trial with Hoople at his side. Consequently, when he was convicted, he took the matter to a federal court and demanded his release from the stockade.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Dinkle's release for his having been saddled with a veterinarian as a lawyer? This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that the 6th Amendment of the Constitution gives a soldier, as well as a civilian, the right to counsel when charged with a serious crime. And, concluded the judge, this presupposes that such counsel will be someone who has had some experience and training in the law. Merely being an officer is not sufficient to meet the constitutional requirements. (Based upon a 1966 United States District Court Decision)

Skelton, Gleason Not in CBS Fall Lineup

NEW YORK (AP) — Two CBS stalwarts, Red Skelton and Jackie Gleason, are not in the new fall schedule being wrapped up by the network.
At present, no negotiations are being conducted with the veteran entertainers and other shows have been penciled into their time slots.

It also was learned that despite rumors, Ed Sullivan, Lucille Ball, "Green Acres" and "Petticoat Junction" are in the schedule due to be announced within the next few days.

NBC has all but won the Nielsen ratings for this season, knocking CBS out of first place for the first time in 14 years. Skelton, despite one of his highest ratings in years, fell victim to a concept that is becoming increasingly important to television: demographics, the breakdown of the viewing audience according to age, sex, income and other information of value to advertisers.

Advertisers are putting their money into programs that appeal to the 18-49 age bracket. These are the people who buy their products.

Skelton drew large household numbers, but too many of them were children or people over 49. Skelton, 66, was unavailable for comment.

New Tax Forms; Basically Old System It Pays To Itemize Your Deductions

EDITORS: Following is the first in a series of five articles entitled "Coping With Your Income Taxes." They were written by AP staff writer John Pearce to help taxpayers prepare their 1969 tax returns.

By JOHN PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Coping with your 1969 income tax return, streamlined though it is, will be complicated enough without unnecessary worry. So the first step is to forget the big Tax Reform Act if you're a normal wage-earning taxpayer.

That includes the change in the surtax, which was 10 per cent for all of 1969, and must be paid even though it was cut to 5 per cent as of Jan. 1.

As in the past, your return must be in the hands of the Internal Revenue Service or postmarked by midnight April 15. But for the first time you won't have the option of using the long form 1040, or — if you had certain kinds of income and it was below $10,000 — the punchcard form 1040A.

Everyone this year will use a new form 1040 and add on other schedules as needed for itemizing deductions, listing income from dividends and interest, property transactions, and retirement plans.

Like last year, this year's form is red, white and blue. The snappy colors highlight those areas of the form where most errors are made. The signature line is played up, for instance, because millions of Americans sweat over their returns each year and then send them in unsigned.

Others forget to attach their W-2 forms — which should be clipped to the back of the form this year instead of to the front — or don't list their Social Security numbers. That oversight can cost a $5 penalty.

Most taxpayers who filed returns last year have mailed a 32-page booklet containing all the necessary forms. It has a blue gummed label on it which should go back with the form in the envelope provided. It also contains the Social Security number, eliminating that problem for most.

If you used 1040A last year you'll find the front of the new 1040 asks for about the same information as both sides of the old form, and you probably can use it by itself. But the IRS found two things that some taxpayers using the punchcard form were denying themselves legitimate deductions; and that the punchcard prevented many otherwise eligible individuals from taking advantage of the lower rates for head of households or surviving spouses.

If you itemize deductions, had pension income or sold stock you'll have to add pages to the basic form using the IRS's "building block" method. Just tear out the sheets you need and discard the rest of the booklet — after reading the instructions and using the tax tables to figure what you owe or Uncle Sam owes you.

But nearly half of the estimated 75 million taxpayers who file returns will need only the basic one-page form, the IRS estimates. To figure your tax, use Schedule T in the back of the booklet. You keep it for your records instead of sending it in, unless you claim a retirement, investment or foreign tax credit or owe self-employment tax.

Adjusted gross income is a term thrown around a lot at income tax time, for it means total pay — not take-home pay — minus such things as sick pay, moving expenses, travel expenses and payments to self-employment retirement programs. If you claim these adjustments you must file a special form for each.

If you were under 65 years of age last year, you must file a tax return if you had gross income of $600 or more. If 65 or over, you have to file only if your gross income was $1,200 or more. But those with at least $400 of net earnings from self-employment must file and pay the self-employment tax.

U.S. citizens living abroad are subject to the same rules, except that their filing deadline is June 15 instead of April 15.

Vietnam is something else again. Servicemen and civilians in war-support roles don't have to file until 180 days after they leave Vietnam.

The tax return booklet has instructions on the back of each form, but if you need fuller instructions a good buy is the 160-page IRS booklet "Your Federal Income Tax," available for 60 cents at IRS offices.

The agency also has a briefier, married couples, or anyone who knows of such couples who's ceremonies were performed in Virginia City, Nevada, to please drop us a line. All will receive a personal reply, and a memento of the occasion.

Through your "Letters to the Editor" column, will you please help us find any couples that might be among your readers who were married in Virginia City, Nevada and are still honoring their marital vows?

This year, the Township of Virginia City has planned a mammoth Wedding Anniversary Celebration for these couples, but we have lost track of many who have moved to all parts of the country.

We know this is an unusual request, but to our knowledge the planned Anniversary Celebration is unusual in that it has never before been attempted anywhere else.

The idea was conceived by the residents of this Historic Ghost Town because so many couples have returned to renew memories of the day they exchanged their vows. Thus, Virginia City decided to do something on a community-wide basis in their honor.

We therefore ask, if among your readers there are many but free booklet, called "Highlights of 1969 Changes in the Tax Law," which goes through the few changes the Tax Reform Bill made for 1969 and what you need to know in planning for this year.

Generally speaking, itemizing your deductions instead of simply taking a standard deduction is worth the additional trouble if you own a home, carry a substantial debt load, have above average child care or medical expenses, or give generously to charity.

Such outlays are deductible. In other words, they can be subtracted in whole or in part from your income as you report it for tax purposes, thus lessening the amount of it that will be taxable.

Most taxpayers who spend an hour or two plodding through such homework find they are well paid for listing their deductions. Others find it all too confusing, or know they have too few deductions to expect much of a payoff from listing them.

In that case, use one or the other of the standard deductions: a simple 10 per cent of the adjusted gross income figure you've entered on line 15c of your form, or the "minimum standard deduction." In the case of married persons filing joint returns or unmarried persons, this is figured as $200 plus $100 for each exemption (count one exemption apiece for yourself and every person you can claim as a dependent, plus another one for each exemption you get if you or your spouse were blind or over 65 at the end of last year.

The maximum for either standard deduction is $1,000 or $500 if married and filing separately.

Here again you get a chance to play something either of two ways. Don't just toss a coin. Do the arithmetic for both and use the one that results in the greater saving.

For example: A couple with two children and an adjusted gross income of $8,000 would have an $800 deduction if they take the 10 per cent deduction.

And they'd better, because if they settled for the minimum standard deduction — $200 plus four times $100 — it would come to only $600.

Once you've reached this point you have most of the heavy work behind you. But don't be in too big a hurry to get the return into the mail if time allows.

Let the completed form sit around the house for a few days, and then go over it again line by line for errors. It's better that you catch errors instead of having the ever-watchful IRS computers find them.

Once you've reached this point you have most of the heavy work behind you. But don't be in too big a hurry to get the return into the mail if time allows.

Let the completed form sit around the house for a few days, and then go over it again line by line for errors. It's better that you catch errors instead of having the ever-watchful IRS computers find them.

For example: A couple with two children and an adjusted gross income of $8,000 would have an $800 deduction if they take the 10 per cent deduction.

And they'd better, because if they settled for the minimum standard deduction — $200 plus four times $100 — it would come to only $600.

Viet Invaders May Go Deeper Into Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces that recaptured the Plain of Jars may now be heading toward Muong Suoi, an important Laotian government position nine miles west of the plain, American sources said today.

The sources reported a "light probing attack" during the night on the mountain outpost of Phou Kout, on the western edge of the plain 100 miles north of the capital and on the route to Muong Suoi.

There was no report of casualties in the attack, and it was not clear whether the North Vietnamese had captured the village or pulled back.

Another unconfirmed report said an enemy force was observed moving from the Plain of Jars in the direction of Gen. Vang Pao's headquarters at Long Cheng, 35 miles to the west. Vang Pao commands a force of about 10,000 Meo tribesmen who are paid and trained by the United States.

The North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao captured Muong Suoi and held it for a short time last summer.

Arab Attack on Bus Kills U.S. Tourist

JERUSALEM (AP) — Arab terrorists attacked a busload of Americans touring the Holy Land in occupied Jordan today and killed one woman and wounded three others, the Israeli military command announced.

The attack came on the heels of weekend explosions aboard airliners in Europe-one bound for Israel with passengers and the other carrying Israeli mail.

One of the planes, a Swissair jetliner, crashed in Switzerland, killing all 47 persons on board. In Bern, the Swiss government imposed new and strict restrictions on Arab nationals entering Switzerland. It also decided to call an international conference on aviation security.

But the Swiss, although officially suspecting sabotage of the Swissair plane, did not come up with a verdict on the cause of the crash on Saturday.

The Israeli government also called for action to halt what it called air piracy and terrorism.

But in Amman, Jordan's capital, Dr. George Habash, leader of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said his guerrilla group will continue attacking planes of the Israeli airline El Al all over the world.

"This is within our strategy," he said, "since El Al planes are part

Poor People Again Poor People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poor people are no longer "low-income individuals" in the Office of Economic Opportunity. Now, thanks to OEO Director Donald Rumsfeld, they're just plain poor people again.

The term "poor," Rumsfeld said in a memorandum distributed to OEO personnel, "is accurate and entirely appropriate."

Rumsfeld countermanded a recent memo issued by OEO's chief of congressional relations, Carol Khosrovi, instructing that poor people be referred to by OE staffers only as "low-income individuals."

Miss Khosrovi said at the time she acted after Rumsfeld indicated a dislike of the word "poor" as an imprecise term. Rumsfeld explained that there was a misunderstanding at a staff conference and added:

"No one has been or will be instructed by me to drop the use of the word 'poor.'"

Astronauts in Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The Apollo-12 astronauts arrived here today on the first European stop of their 40-day round-the-world tour.

Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon and Alan L. Bean landed at Lisbon's Portela Airport at noon looking tanned and relaxed after a brief rest at Las Palmas, in the Spanish Canary Islands.

Before coming to Portugal the astronauts and their wives visited Venezuela, Peru, Chile and Panama.

The astronauts go to Luxembourg on Tuesday.

Finch in Favor of Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch says he would advise President Nixon to veto the House-passed education funding bill unless it is substantially changed by the Senate.

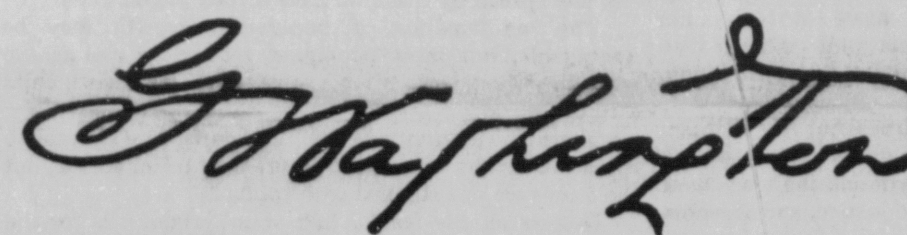

Finch, in a letter made public Sunday, said the bill "continues to carry the same excesses and faults that caused the President to veto this important and vital measure in the first place."

The letter, addressed to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on health and education appropriations, also urged deletion of southern-sponsored amendments adopted by the House and aimed at weakening federal school desegregation efforts.

Although the measure is $364 million below the bill Nixon vetoed last month, it still appropriates $324 million more than the administration wanted.

Finch said the Senate should either cut the amount of money in the legislation or authorize the President to hold back some spending of $43 billion in mandatory education formula grants.

Nixon vetoed the earlier version of the $194 billion money bill Jan. 27, contending extra money added by the House and Senate would be inflationary.

White House Musical Sets Tone for Washington Birthday Observances

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 37th president of the United States observed the 238th birthday of the first president Sunday with a musical celebration of the nation's independence.

Richard M. Nixon, the 37th president, played host on George Washington's birthday to a White House showing of "1776," the Broadway play that depicts the drafting of the Declaration of Independence.

The President wasn't alone in celebrating Washington's birthday.

Residents of Laredo, Tex., crossed the U.S.-Mexican border to a Nuevo Laredo, where they joined in a festive celebration of Mexican-American good will.

In Albuquerque, N.M., the Robert White family took advantage of a weekend snowfall to sculpt a 6-foot-high snow bust of Washington, and created a snow cake inscribed "Happy Birthday, George."

"Love America Week" was started Sunday by a parade up the main street of Milwaukee, Wis., and a five-gun salute at a monument to Washington.

Because the holiday fell on a weekend, federal and many state employees were to have today off. In Congress, however, both the House and Senate scheduled sessions and a number of state legislatures planned to work on problems of taxes and budgets.

The President and his 229 guests watched the full-scale production of "1776" in the historic East Room of the White House where John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, both characters in the play, had once stood.

Nixon expressed his own enjoyment of the show and there was a standing ovation for the cast.

The performance was the second in a series of "evenings at the White House" Nixon has launched to salute the arts.

Bombing Nears DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers made heavy strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos today for the seventh consecutive day and ranged to within a mile of the demilitarized zone.

Informed sources said about half of the 30,000 tons of bombs dropped by the big bombers so far this month have been on supply depots and infiltration corridors in eastern Laos, to cut down the movement of troops and war materials into South Vietnam.

Informed sources said about 50 B52s made heavy raids up and down the Ho Chi Minh trail Sunday and today, dropping 1,500 tons of explosives.

The U.S. Command, which reports only B52 strikes flown in South Vietnam, said one fivebomber mission attacked supply depots and staging areas along the coast, a mile below the DMZ.

They were the closest raids to the DMZ reported since Dec. 14.

Fifteen miles farther west along the DMZ, North Vietnamese gunners shot down a U.S. Army Cobra helicopter gunship, but the two-man crew was rescued unhurt.

Sources in Saigon said they had indications that North Vietnamese replacements were beginning to arrive in the 3rd Corps area stretching from Saigon 100 miles north to the Cambodian border.

"There has been little activity in the 3rd Corps in the past two weeks," said one source. "We expect an increase in activity in the coming week. We are waiting for the initiation of the enemy's spring campaign."

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Overheard: "I feel foolish when I realize I didn't trust my son with the Ford and now he flies the big jets."

THE IRONY OF WAR

Probably no "war" in the history of our country has been so confusing to so many people as the one in which we are involved now in Vietnam. We put "war" in quote marks in our editorial context, because there is even some question among our highest authorities as to whether, technically speaking, we are "at war". No war has officially been declared; the savage conflict in which we are involved, and in which we have committed thousands of American troops and lost thousands more in deaths and injuries just seemed to grow like Topsy. Furthermore, several Presidents of the United States including the man now in office, have declared that "it is not our objective to win a war; it is our purpose and policy to deter aggression" ... or words very close to those.

Just how we are going to stop the Communists from taking over South Vietnam - without trying to "win" - is, of course, the $164 question, and one that can start a real good argument with almost anybody at the mere drop of a hat. We have been hoping that Mr. Nixon would be a little more direct, and a little more precise, in spelling out American policy in Vietnam than has his predecessors. Unfortunately, however, the President has left many fuzzy edges all around the Vietnamese question. All we know is, from the experienced position of this Editor's chair, that if you stop any ten people and ask them about Vietnam, you will very probably get ten different interpretations as to why we are there, how we got there in the first place, what we really intend to do, whether our efforts have been worthwhile or a waste, and whether, in the end, the Communists will win or lose.

But, if there is confusion here, there are signs that some of the enemy is terribly confused, too. The Congressional Record on February 5, tells the story of a young Vietnamese girl brought by her Aunt for treatment to a U.S. Air Force doctor, Capt. Jerold D. Albright of Haven, Kansas, stationed at an American hospital in the Mekong Delta area. The girl suffered ghastly wounds; both of her hands had been blown off at the wrists. After Dr. Albright had treated the girl as best he could, she told him that she was helping her Aunt, a Communist Viet Cong, to plant a bomb under the seat of the doctor's jeep in order to kill him... but the fiendish device went off prematurely. How ironic that when disaster struck, the Communist woman took her niece not to her "comrades," but to the American they intended to murder! And at what an awful cost to the unfortunate girl.

All wars produce their ironic stories, but the Vietnam war seems to have more than its share. We can but pray that out of all the confusion, the horror and the tragedy of Vietnam there will come liberty, and justice, and freedom for the people of Vietnam.

You can be sure that money still talks, but it's harder to get enough to raise the volume to where you can hear it.

HOCKEY BOOM

Yes, for speed and pep and action there is only one attraction,

You'll see knockouts there a dozen for a dime. When the steel blades are ringing and the shiny sticks are swinging, Give me hockey -- I'll take hockey -- any time!

The 1970 World Hockey Championships, which open in Bucharest, Romania, on Tuesday, Feb. 24, are not likely to match the 1969 championships in athletic and political drama. Last year's matches in Stockholm saw the Soviet team twice defeated by Czechoslovakia. Each of these games was followed by victory celebrations with anti-Soviet overtones in Prague.

At the end of the 1969 competition, the Soviet, Swedish and Czechoslovak teams all had 8-0-2 records. But the Soviet team led the others in terms of goals scored vs. goals allowed and thus was awarded the championship for the seventh straight time. The United States team, with a dismal 0-0-10 record, finished last in Group A competition and therefore will play in Group B in Romania. East Germany, the 1969 Group B winner, moves up into Group A.

If each national hockey team consisted of the country's best players, Canada would dominate the world championship tournament as the Soviet Union does now. The trouble is that Canada's top players perform for the professional National Hockey League or one of the minor pro leagues. The Soviet and other Communist bloc teams have managed to preserve the fiction that they are composed of amateurs.

Meanwhile, professional hockey continues to boom. The N.H.L., which doubled in size from six to 12 teams before the start of the 1967-68 season, will expand again late this year. New franchises have been awarded to Buffalo and Vancouver at $6 million apiece -- three times the entry fee charged the previous six expansion teams. But with home game sellouts commonplace and television revenue increasing, even $6 million may prove a bargain price in the long run.

Ben Franklin said it: "Reb not God, nor the poor, lest thou ruin thyself; the eagle snatched a coal from the altar, but it fired her nest."

F. T. Schumacher says: "Since woman's life is four years longer than man's you'd think she could wait about having the last word."

Bob Scott says: "A man with plenty of knowledge is only as good as his knowledge."

Double Standard. At Fort Devens, Mass., Donald Potter began Army paratrooper training after the Navy rejected him because he would neither remove his nude tattoo nor drape her.

IT'S THE ENEMY WITHIN WHICH PERILS U. S.

In its swan-song report to the nation, the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence fingered the greatest enemy facing the United States in the immediate years ahead.

In Pogo's immortal words, "It is us." Our most serious challenges to date have been external -- the kind this strong and resourceful country could unite against, said the commission, which was created by President Johnson in 1968 following the assassination of Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy.

Now, however, stated its 13 members in a unanimous voice, "While serious external dangers remain, the graver threats today are internal."

These include haphazard urbanization, racial discrimination, disfigurement of the environment, the dislocation of human identity and motivation -- "all resulting in a rising tide of individual and group violence."

The commission recommends that when the Vietnam war ends the nation increase annual welfare expenditures by about $20 billion, partly by reducing military expenditures and partly by increased tax revenues resulting from growth of the gross national product. Welfare spending should continue to increase "until essential social goals are realized."

"The greatness and durability of most civilizations has been finally determined by how they have responded to these challenges from within," the commission summed up. "Ours will be no exception."

Few persons in or out of government have either hailed this last report, along with its forerunners, as a much-needed, 11th-hour warning or championed it as a blue-print for a brighter national future. Nevertheless, commission members believe that the message is slowly sinking into the national conscience.

"If in five years nothing has happened," says chairman Milton S. Eisenhower, "I shall be the most disappointed man in America."

It is to be hoped that he has not underestimated the individual citizen's capacity to ignore the perils which do not threaten him immediately and directly.

As Richard H. Rovere noted recently, all of us alive today in the "developed" countries grew up with technology. All the causes of our present laments could have been foreseen decades ago.

"Given a few facts about the chemistry of the environment and the impact on it of population and advanced technology, any man of modest literacy could have charted the route from the recent past to the present and on to the questionable future," he writes. "The agonies of the cities in the late '60s should have been predictable in the middle years of the Depression, if not long before."

But prophets are seldom honored, especially prophets of gloom.

Anyway, no one is actually gagging for his life's breath on polluted air. No one is dropping over from diseases spread by rivers we have turned into sewers.

The mathematics of population growth may be unarguable, but most people as yet see no real reason why they should not bring a fourth or fifth or sixth child into the world.

There is still plenty of countryside for the suburbs to spread into. The balance of nature may be imperiled, but the stores are still stocked with food.

Despite all the fearful talk about crime, it is for the most part confined to the black ghettos, which one can easily drive around in his new car on the new freeways.

Organized crime -- the kind of crime that takes money from everyone's pocket and most directly threatens the health of society -- is largely regarded with indifference by the public, even in the face of revelations, as lately in New Jersey, of how widely it has corrupted law enforcement and government and how deeply it has penetrated legitimate businesses.

Dr. Eisenhower's optimism to the contrary, things may have to get much worse, much more quickly, before Americans decide to do what has to be done to make them better.

The Panama Canal, hailed as one of the world's modern wonders upon its completion in 1914, is becoming outmoded. Almost a thousand ships are too wide to go through "the big ditch," and another 1,200 have to reduce their cargo in order to navigate it.

A micro-organism that converts cellulose waste into pure protein has been found by Louisiana State University researchers. The protein which, hopefully, can be combined with other substances to make tasty food products has the texture of rough flour.

The older you are, the less likely you are to be a litterbug. That may be a minor tribute to age, but it's a fact. A survey found that people between 21 and 35 are three times as likely to leave litter around as those over 50.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

WASHINGTON-The Orleans Parish grand jury is investigating a charge that New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison sexually molested a 13-year-old boy at the city's pash Athletic Club.

The allegation, based on statements by the boy's father, was filed by the New Orleans Crime Commission with grand jury foreman William J. Krummel Sr. A November 5, 1969 letter from Crime Commission Director Aaron Kohn to Krummel, detailing the charge, has now been obtained by this column.

Krummel, on the record, would concede only that he received the letter. Nevertheless, an authoritative official source confirmed that the grand jury was "looking into it."

Garrison has denied the charge, the same official said. The controversial DA's friends said he was a "devoted family man." Persistent efforts by this column to reach Garrison for comment failed.

The allegation was made by a prominent member of the New Orleans "establishment" whose brother is one of the most respected men in the South. To spare the young man embarrassment, we will leave out names.

Kohn, as director of the privately financed Crime Commission, has often been at odds with Garrison. He would confirm for the record only that the text of the letter obtained by this column was authentic.

"On a Sunday in June, 1969," the Commission letter to the grand jury states, "at the New Orleans Athletic Club, District Attorney Jim Garrison conducted himself in a manner which, if true, would be in violation of Louisiana criminal laws."

The laws in question punish "Indecent Behavior with Juveniles" and "Crime Against Nature, Attempt," the letter went on.

THREE WITNESSES The letter then states that the father spoke to three men about the incident and all three had "separately and independently communicated" the father's accusation to Kohn.

The letter, sent February 9 to the White House, was addressed to presidential assistant Peter Flanigan. Bristling with anger, it minces no words about Sandoval's feelings for

With the help of the rest of us he collected hundreds of photos, snapshots, pin-up girls, etc., and packed them elaborately in a large box. Then he shipped it to the unfaithful girl.

When she opens the box, she will find this note: "Please pick out your picture and return the rest to me. This is a little embarrassing, but I don't remember which one is yours."

We never did get our pictures back, but we figure it was worth it.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

RETURNS TO BATTLE: Arthur Goldberg Set To Tackle Gov. Rockefeller: Plans Drive to Revive NEW YORK: — Influential Democrats, needing a powerful aspirant to ease their splitting political headaches, once more have turned to Arthur Goldberg to lead them into the promised land. They believe he's the only man who can defeat Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. He agrees with them.

He's ready for the blitz -- though he'll have to defeat five, possibly, six, other hopefuls in the primaries. But the prize is almost everything. Reversing his decision to quit and recasting himself, he has been meeting with county chairmen. He has turned to the pros, the vote getters, and has turned from the gubernatorial no-nonsense who have been costing the Democrats election after election.

All he wants is the support of the party machinery in his battles with Gene McCarthy's New Democratic Coalition "reformers."

He's so ready to hit the streets that he has listened (for the first time) to those who, with careful deference, have not in so many words, but quite clearly, advised him to top being stuffy, to forget his "exes," ex-Ambassador, ex-Supreme Court Justice, ex-Secretary of Labor, ex-labor lawyer, and get with it. Just plain Arthur. Stop having his secretary call saying "the Justice would like to talk with you."

Few minds read rhetorical shorthand as quickly as Justice Goldberg's. He's ready to get with it because driving Nelson Rockefeller from the governor's mansion would make him and the New York State Democratic Party the most influential forces in the national organization. They could unite it. They could control the '72 nominating convention. They could name the presidential slate. They could tackle President Nixon. There is, strangely enough, one big but. Arthur Goldberg will have difficulty getting significant labor support -- meaning money and manpower without which no Democratic nominee can roll out a clagoruous campaign.

There's a strange phenomenon in this Empire State -- labor, right, left and center -- with the Republicans. At this moment gravel-voiced, gregarious, Nelson Rockefeller, the haw k, and university-oriented Senator Charles Goodell, the dove of doves, virtually have locked up most of the state's labor leaders' support.

The Governor and the AFL-CIO building and construction trades unions have been going steady for years. They've cooperated with him to the point where the other night Mr. Rockefeller glowingly told an old friend how well a reportedly $600 million Buffalo, N. Y., construction project is going. It will have labor and workers peace because black workers would be hired in proportion to the black population in the area, he said proudly.

Enthusiastically with Gov. Rockefeller, too, is the Amalgamated (men's) Clothing Workers of America, (AFL-CIO) and its president, Jack Potofsky, an old friend and client of counselor Goldberg's. Mr. Potofsky and Nelson Rockefeller have worked closely on bond issues so huge housing projects could be built. The union chief has told "Arthur" the "Amalgamated" would back the governor.

Nor will Mr. Goldberg find support among the left-of-center flash-fire organizing hospital unions, the politically sophisticated waterfront leaders such as the seafarers' Paul Hall and the longshoremen's Teddy Gleason. In fact, one of the maritime union chiefs said recently, "I'll spend every nickel I have to beat Goldberg."

But the former Ambassador, who has been in a hundred activities ranging from counseling professional baseball players to investigating the Chicago Panther shooting, has one powerful ally.

He's Mayor John V. Lindsay. It's a fine educated guess that his Honor will back Arthur Goldberg against Nelson Rockefeller if the former Justice gets the nomination.

Since there is no doubt that the New York Liberal Party will nominate Sen. Goodell for re-election, there will develop a hard-hitting trio -- Goldberg, Goodell and Lindsay.

Should Mr. Goldberg win without labor support he'll have no IOUs to repay.

With Arthur Goldberg in the governor's mansion no John Lindsay, the un-Republican, in Gracie Mansion, anything could happen to American politics in general and the Democratic Party specifically in the '71-'72 period.

But to get there, said one powerful political leader recently, mindful he was mixing his metaphors, "Arthur will have to get out of the Ivy League and remember this is a new ballgame. Who cares about titles? He's got to play nitty-gritty politics; he's got to hit the streets. He knows what blintzes, pizzas and hot dogs are. Let him start eating them in public and the opposition will eat crow."

If not, he added, "Arthur should go back to his farm in old Virginia."

But for the moment it certainly looks like hot dogs for "Arthur" -- not hus puppies.

Ann Landers

Husband And Wife BOTH In Favor Of Wife-spanking...With Hairbrush

Dear Ann Landers: I decided twice in the last six months, established to overcome the next time you printed a letter against wife-spanking I would write and tell you off. Today is the day.

My wife has always been stubborn and rock-headed. Her father told me when I married her that the only way to keep Laura in line was to turn her over my knee and spank her with a hairbrush. In fact, he gave me a hairbrush for a wedding present.

Laura and I have been married 12 years and I've used that brush dozens of times. It would be no exaggeration to say the hairbrush has kept our marriage together.

And now I'm going to turn this letter over to Laura so she can tell you how she feels about it. — Sincerely yours, H.L.K.

Dear Ann Landers: You are wrong about wife-spanking. Henry spans me when I need it. I'm glad he has the good sense to be boss. If more husbands spanked their wives, there would be fewer divorces.

After a spanking, Henry and I usually make love and we don't even remember what we quarreled about. I'll bet hundreds of couples besides Henry and me end their tiffs this way. Now, what do you think, Ann Landers?—Henry's Bad Girl

Dear Girl: I think the solution is wonderful — for a couple of nuts like you and Henry. Obviously, the rocks in his head match the holes in his. Please keep my address handy. When the spankings turn into beatings, you might want to write again.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a young mother with a big problem. I became involved with a married man. He said he loved me and I believed him. Now I'm supporting a 7-month-old daughter.

I had a miserable pregnancy and hated the baby before she was born. The minute I saw her my whole world changed. I knew I could never give her up. Now I'm working two jobs to support us and believe me, it's not easy.

I've been "laid off" (fired)

Roommates Combine Talents To Compose Folk Music and Lift Moods

There's a rare relationship between close roommates. Each adapt to certain characteristics of the other after a few months of life together. Eventually roommates discuss topics from colognes to hopeful honeymoon havens, God and death. They begin to know each other so well that each shares in the life of the other. Each gets to see the other at his or her ultimate worst, but they still get along. There's something special about that.

Many people believe everyone has some special talent, whether apparent or overt. Belinda (Bendy) Ayers and Ramona (Monie) Mathias, roommates at Oakland City College, Oakland City, Ind., combine their talents to write folk music. Monie writes lyrics and Bendy builds music behind them.

Bendy, a junior elementary education major from Sikeston and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Ayers of 905 Alexander was motivated to learn guitar in high school. Her mother's remark to the effect that she would never learn to play gave Bendy the incentive she needed. She proceeded to work with chords and subsequently taught herself to play the guitar.

Monie is a sophomore elementary education major from Portland (Tenn.) "My mother always wanted me to be in some kind of journalism work. But I don't think she had music in mind," she said.

It seems Monie and Bendy will perform some of the were sitting in their dorm room numbers on tour.

one night when Bendy was feeling "pretty low". The girls proceeded to involve themselves in composing a song. They first got the words down and then set them to music, just the way they wanted. They term their style of work "folk music."

During this year, Bendy and Monie have drifted into the mood needed to write several more songs. Monie comments, "We only write when Bendy has a math test the next day...And we can't compose when we're trying. You can tell they're very moody songs, too."

To date, the songs have no titles. Concerning this, Bendy remarked "If they're titled the listener focuses his thoughts on the title, and he can't relate the song to his own feelings. If we did title them, we'd be limiting the potential of thoughts."

Both girls are members of the Concert Choir and Bendy is also a member of Choralaires. The Choir is taking a tour during spring quarter break and Bendy

Problems of Consumer Advocate

Include Sofa With Broken Leg

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's consumer advocate is getting a first-hand taste of the citizen frustrations which pour into her office daily.

Virginia Knauer, a homemaker, mother and grandmother when she's not fielding the complaints of consumers, can't seem to get her sofa fixed.

"The buyer has the right to register his dissatisfaction and have his complaint heard and weighed when his interests are badly served," said President Nixon in his "Buyer's Bill of Rights" last October.

But Mrs. Knauer says she's had a little trouble getting satisfaction since a new sofa was delivered to her home last August.

"Can you imagine sending out a sofa with a broken leg?" she asks. "And badly... badly stitched together. I could have done a better job."

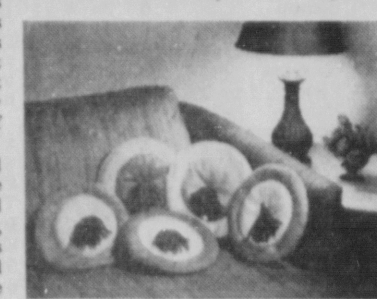

Mrs. Knauer is pleased with the response she gets when she approaches manufacturers about the 2,000 to 3,000 letters and complaints she gets in her office every month.

She managed to convince a floor tile firm it should replace a cracked floor for one woman. For one man she managed to get his refrigerator warranty extended because the appliance had been in repair shops for half the original three-year warranty. But what's happened with the sofa replacement she was promised?

"Now they're not even sure that they ordered the one they promised to deliver sometime

MINIATURE "FLYING SAUCERS" invade the home. These "out-of-sight" cushions have just landed on a terrestrial sofa. Their saucer-like shapes send bright signals throughout a room.

Color Galore
These pillows can be whipped up in a flash and are inexpensive to do. All you need is a colorful assortment of felt and some batting. The larger circle is 9" in diameter and the smaller is 6". You can stitch them together by hand or machine.

Launch a Fleet
Add the flourish of a floppy yarn tassel before take-off time. Each cushion is small, so make a whole fleet for a smashing effect. The pattern is simple enough for a child to make, as a gift or for his own room. Cape Seeded Number One

Next Monday sixteen class L regional basketball tournaments get underway in Missouri. One hundred and eighteen teams representing the largest schools in Missouri will see action before the week closes, which will decide state tournament entries.

The local Regional, to be held in the spacious Sikeston Field House, will have teams representing Sikeston, Cape Girardeau, Kennett, Perryville, Jackson, Poplar Bluff, and Charleston in attendance.

Action begins at 7 p.m. Monday, March 2, with the top-seeded Cape Central Bengals meeting the Jackson Indians. The Tigers just last week clinched the championship of the Southeast Missouri Conference, the local Class L conference, with an 83-71 defeat of the Sikeston Bulldogs. The Cape Girardeau possess a 13-7 state and have rolled over the Tournaments second and third seeded teams, Poplar Bluff and Sikeston, in posting their modest record.

Action ensues again Tuesday, March 3, with Charleston doing battle with the Perryville Pirates in the 7:00 contest and the defending Champion Sikeston Bulldogs hosting Kennett in the 8:30 encounter. Charleston is seeded fourth in the Regional and has already beat the Pirates once in conference play. Last year's Regional winner, the Sikeston Bulldogs, hit the Tartan in the final first-round action game against the Kennett Indians. Sikeston's state stands at a disappointing 7-8 as of Saturday, but has registered upset highlights over Poplar Bluff and Class M power, Richland. In earlier competition, the third-seeded Dogs split with Kennett as they took a 35-33 win in the dome and lost in the Poplar Bluff Invitational Tournament by the score of 48-46.

Poplar Bluff, the tournament's second-ranked team, drew the only bye of the week's action. Bluff waits until Wednesday, March 5, to do their first battle as they tangle with the winner of the Sikeston-Kennett encounter in the semi-final round. Both semi-final round games will be played Wednesday with the Bluff contest and the winners of the C-P-Jackson and Charleston-Perryville games greeting each other. The championship of the Regional will be decided Friday, March 6, at 8:30.

No matter who wins the tournament, Southeast Missouri is sure to be well represented on March 9 in Cape's Houck Field House against the winner of the Hillsboro Regional.

McLain Waiting

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — While Denny McLain remained in limbo, the Detroit Tiger pitching star is getting many job offers—primarily to entertain in nightclubs.

But the 24-year-old righthander said Sunday he can't accept any of them until he is more definite about his future in baseball.

McLain, who plays the organ and also sings, said he had had a lot of other job offers.

"But I'll just wait to find out what's going on because I want to play baseball more than anything else," he said.

McLain had just returned from playing a round of golf but basically he has been living in seclusion since being indefinitely suspended from baseball Thursday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Kuhn said the suspension was a result of McLain's "involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities."

Who Will It be?

Who will it be?

That's the big question in the college basketball world this week and it will be answered on several fronts.

—In the wake of UCLA's stunning 78-65 loss to Oregon, who will be No. 1 when The Associated Press releases its weekly poll Monday night?

—Who will be chosen when the NCAA and National Invitation Tournaments start sending out their bids Tuesday? The answer to the first question should come from among UCLA, 21-1; Kenyucky, 21-1, and St. Bonaventure, 19-1, who ranked 1-3 last week. Other once-beaten teams are Jacksonville, 20-1, and Penn., 20-1, and owner of the nation's longest winning streak at 15.

The NCAA Tournament which needs 10 at-large teams in addition to the 15 conference champions who qualify automatically, is expected to tap Jacksonville and St. Bonaventure in the East, Marquette and Notre Dame in the Midwest, Houston and Dayton in the Midwest and New Mexico State and Utah State in the West.

Western Kentucky became the first to gain the 25-team field when the Hilltoppers whipped Morehead State 98-74 behind Jim McDaniels' 36 points Saturday night and clinched the Ohio Valley Conference championship. Kansas State assured itself of at least a tie in the Big Eight by downing Nebraska 69-62. The Wildcats can win it by beating Colorado on Thursday.

The NIT probably will go for Niagara, St. John's and Louisiana State—as soon as the Tigers are officially eliminated from the Southeastern Conference race—for its 16-team field. But the talk of the weekend was Oregon's trouncing of UCLA, last major unbeaten team. The Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, were unbeaten in 1966-67, lost to Houston by two points in 1967-68, lost to Southern California by two last year and had reeled off 21 straight wins this season.

Stan Love, the Pacific Eight's leading scorer, and sophomore Rusty Blair each scored 19 points for Oregon and Blair hit five straight shots early in the second half.

"They whipped us on offense and defense," said UCLA's John Wooden. "Not in 10 years can I remember any team of mine shooting as poorly as we did and getting beaten on the boards as badly."

But Wooden also noted that "the pressure is off us now," which might be bad news for UCLA's remaining opponents.

Steve Belko, Oregon's coach, said, "I honestly thought before the start that we had a good chance to beat them if we played our type of game. And... we did just that."

Despite the setback, UCLA has a two-game lead over Oregon in the Pac-8 with four games left. Kentucky can clinch a tie in the SEC by beating Alabama tonight and can win it all if Louisiana State loses to Tennessee.

In a wild shootout Saturday, LSU's Pete Maravich outscored Kentucky's Dan Issel 64-61 but the Wildcats spoiled Pistol Pete's home finale 121-105. Big Bob Lanier poured in 34 points in St. Bonaventure's 71-61 defeat of Long Island U.

South Carolina ranked fourth, and No. 9 Davidson kept rolling along but both must win to reach the final four.

Record Setting Night

POPLAR BLUFF — Three records were broken Saturday night during the final home appearance of Three Rivers junior college Raiders, as 868 fans sat in and watched as TRJC moved within one game of sharing the conference basketball title as it turned back Florissant Valley of St. Louis, 85-70 despite a 32 point scoring performance by the Norsemen's Don Nelson to record its 20th victory of the season.

Coach Bob Cradic's Raiders play at Flat River tonight and can clinch a tie for the league title with Meramec. Mineral Area was the last team to defeat the Raiders.

Miss Sharon Armour of Naylor, Mo. was crowned homecoming queen.

The records set were the 20th win, attendance and the 32 points by Nelson, which was a conference scoring mark against TRJC.

Roy Fields continued his torrid scoring pace by leading the Raiders with 22 points. Leonard Bishop added 15, John Johnson 14 and Fred Johnson 13 while four others scored for TRJC.

TRJC sped into a 37-27 first

NCAA berths via post-season tournaments in the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences, respectively. The Gamecocks topped North Carolina 79-62 and Davidson trimmed George Washington 91-74.

Jimmy Collins' 30 points led fifth-ranked New Mexico State past West Texas State 87-73. Sixth rated Jacksonville was idle but No. 7 Penn routed Brown 84-56 and set up Friday night's Ivy showdown with Columbia, which must win to prevent Penn's clinching the title.

Florida State, No. 8 ended Georgia Tech's string of upsets 97-80 and 10th-ranked Marquette crushed Detroit 80-60.

In other league races, Iowa defeated Ohio State 97-89 and leads the Big Ten by two games with four left; Rice beat Texas 75-67 for a two-game lead in the Southwest Conference with three to play; Utah moved one-half game in front in the Western Athletic Conference by wallowing Wyoming 113-82 while Texas-El Paso lost to Arizona 86-72.

Drake pulled 1 1/2 games ahead of Louisville in the Missouri Valley by holding off Tulsa 80-74 while Cincinnati beat runnerup Louisville 53-52.

South Carolina ranked fourth, and No. 9 Davidson kept rolling along but both must win to reach the final four.

Bulldogs Drop Below .500

JACKSON -- The Sikeston half to finish the contest with 22 Bulldogs were probably more to his credit. The junior frontliner collected almost all of his points from the fifteen to wasn't exactly a good three days as far as SHS basketball is concerned. The Dogs lost a heart-breaker to Cape Central Friday and returned north only to add another blemish to their record at the hands of the Jackson Indians 69-53. The Dogs fell below the .500 mark with Saturday's defeat as their state now stands at 7-8.

At the beginning, it looked as if the tempo of the contest was going to be slow as almost two minutes passed before either team could managed a point. Lee King started off the night's scoring with a fifteen foot bucket, but only after 1:44 had elapsed in the opening period. The score stood at 2-2 shortly after but after that the Dogs might as well have gotten back on the bus for the rest of the entire game was Jackson's. At the end of the opening period, the score board showed Jackson 18- Sikeston 5. The Dogs were obviously down-trodden after losing the game which settled the North Division Conference title and in no mood to play Saturday night's contest. Their mood was just about matched in reverse by Jackson's enthusiasm, as the Indians continued to capitalize on the gloomy Dogs floor mistakes. Lee King was the only one able to find the range for the visitors during the first half as he cashed in for 10 of the Dogs 21 points. Meanwhile, John Walker was busy surpassing King's performance on the other end of the court as he pumped in thirteen in the Indians big first.

The second half was much the same as the first, as the Dogs stayed in the dumps until the fourth when they finally began to reel off some points. The Tribe had a big twenty-two point margin entering the fourth, but closed the game sixteen ahead. The Dogs were hurt badly in the second half by fouls, as Jackson put a total of fourteen through the hoop along with only ten field shots. In the first half, the home-town squad had managed 16 outside shots. Lee King, the Bulldog's first half hotshot, poured in an additional twelve in the second half.

Malden Man, 98, Takes a Bride

MALDEN — The new bridegroom, with brilliant blue eyes twinkling, and his new bride of a few weeks, were spending their honeymoon baby-sitting for the afternoon with his bride's four-year-old grandchild.

"I thought I was a confirmed bachelor until I met Mrs. Collier," grinned Rupert O. Jordan, revealing he had been single almost 50 years. "Now I'm just an ordinary married man."

Not quite. Jordan is 98 years old. The oldest person in Dunklin County to take out a marriage license, a check with County Recorder Don Parker revealed. Jordan and his bride of "sweet 71" were married Jan. 27, at their home in Malden, two weeks after he had "moved in with the white-haired widow."

Mrs. Jordan hastened to explain, "Mr. Jordan had a wreck Christmas Day in his car, and although we'd been out together a couple of times last summer, he hadn't bothered to call me since. A friend told me he would like me to come over to his house and take care of him after he got out of the hospital, but I said no. If he wanted to come over here that was alright, but I certainly wasn't going over there."

And he did. In the middle of January. And proposed a week later.

Jordan made news earlier — at least with the Missouri Highway Patrol — when he was involved in an accident on Christmas Day near Neelyville, Jordan, who received serious back injuries and a crushed rib cage, said it was his first accident in all his years of driving, "and I've been driving since cars were invented" he laughed.

Last week, Jordan was able to resume his daily walks, after being "banged up" in the accident, and walked a mile around the city to pay the utility bills. "Nothing like fresh air and sunshine to perk you up" he smiled, while bouncing his granddaughter on his knee.

STUDENT COUNCIL president and vice president of East Prairie high school are Chuck Davis and Marlys Davis.

Student Body Officers Chosen

EAST PRAIRIE — Chuck Davis and Marlys Davis, juniors in high school, have been elected by the student body to serve as president and vice president of the 1970-71 student council.

The election climaxed a week of campaigning, which included posters, demonstrations, and speeches before the student body by all candidates.

Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Davis. He has been a member of the student council three years, is a member of the football Eagles, and is president of the Science club.

Charleston Woman Injured Near Lamar

CHARLESTON — Mrs. John Huckstep was seriously injured in an accident on a highway near Lamar, Feb. 13. She was taken to the Springfield Baptist Hospital and later transferred to the Crawford County Hospital, Girard, Kansas.

Mrs. and Mrs. Huckstep left Charleston Friday afternoon bound for Girard, for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall. Near Lamar, Mr. Huckstep said he thought he had a flat tire, and attempted to stop the car. The truck driver went into a skid on the icy pavement and ran off the road with its rear end sticking out onto the road.

Before he and Mrs. Huckstep could get out of the car a pickup truck crashed into the rear of the vehicle, spinning it completely around and throwing Mrs. Huckstep out of the car. Huckstep found his wife on the pavement with the back wheel of the truck on her arm.

The truck driver was injured, so Huckstep jacked the truck up

As he left the room to see what was cooking for supper, Mrs. Jordan turned and remarked "He's a grand fella, not another like him in the whole world."

Fifteen years ago, Jordan officially retired from business. He owned a combination grocery store-service station. During his 98 years, he has helped clear two-thirds of the timberland in Dunklin County, and later moved on to Butler County, Ark., clearing the land. "But I decided to move back to my stomping grounds here in Malden to live" he said.

"I've been in almost every state in the union during my life, and I like this part of the country the best."

At the close of the interview, which took place a day before Valentine's Day at the Jordan home, this reporter questioned the couple about any special plans for the day. "Well, I've only gotten one Valentine in my life" Jordan confided, "and that was a funny one. I never have sent one to anybody though."

As I walked from their home, I couldn't help but think these newly-weds would exchange Valentines this year for the first time. And would the rest of their lives.

TYREE BROWN holding a silver tray plaque he received from the community of Bell City in appreciation of his Boy Scout leadership.

Bell City Honors Boy Scout Leader

BELL CITY - Tyree Brown was honored by the community of Bell City as a Boy Scout leader in a surprise ceremony at the high school gymnasium.

The program began with an invocation by C. G. Lemmons, followed by a pot-luck supper in the high school cafeteria. After the supper, everyone went to the gymnasium for the court of honor and a skit entitled "The Bugle Blows - or - A Typical Day At Camp LeWallen."

Scout leaders with scouts and their parents, cubs and their parents, girl scouts and their parents, and interested friends were invited guests.

John Maynard, Methodist minister, conducted the presentation of the scout executives who were present for this memorable occasion were:

Connie Hay, council scout executive from Cape Girardeau and Larry Gillis, district executive from Dexter. Also present was Tom Womack, a scoutmaster from Catron, Robert Scherer, assistant scoutmaster and former and present merit badge counselors; Mrs. Dale Shumaker, Earl Carroll, Max Bollinger, Ivan Dunn, John Maynard, Anson Knoderer and B. Rust Brown.

Honored last night were those boys who earned their Eagle Rank in the Bell City troop, which is the highest award in Scouting. These were: Bill Knoderer, Brady Henson, Dennis Scherer and Fred Brown. Along with these young men, those who had completed their requirements for the God and Country Award were: Terry Eakin, Phil Stevens, David Swindell and Thom Lemmons.

In special Court of Honor, the following badges were given: Tenderfoot Rank (George Rendleman and Ronnie Clark.) Second Class Rank, (Al Calhoun.) First Class Rank, (Lance and Mark Hesselrode.) Merit badges were given to the following boys: Dennis and David Scherer, Fred Brown, David Swindell, Phil Stevens, Terry Eakin, Ronnie Carroll, Lance and Mark Hesselrode and Thom Lemmons.

The Court of Honor was followed by a number of announcements and the renewal of the charter by the Methodist Men's Club.

The skit followed and a pre-determined part in the skit, a trumpet fanfare sounded, beginning the narration entitled, "This is Your Life, Tyree Brown", by Mrs. Dale E. Shumaker, mistress of ceremony. This of course, was the high point in the evening and a complete surprise not only to Mr. Brown but to many of the people in the audience. In this narration, various stages of Tyree's life were told by those who knew him then. Those participants were: Mr. & Mrs. B. Rust Brown, his parents; Joseph Brown, his brother; Mrs. Lizzie Gross; Miss Mary Brown, his sister; Mr. Jim Delay, a classmate; Frances Brown, his wife; Fred Brown, his son; Tom Womack, a scouting associate; Robert Scherer, Assistant Scoutmaster and Bill Knoderer, one of his scouts.

Britain Holds up

Plan to Abandon

Sixpence Coin

LONDON (AP) - Treasury Minister William Rogers says the British government is holding up its plans to abandon the sixpence as part of its conversion to the decimal currency system. The little silver coin, worth six U. S. cents, is the most common piece of change in the Briton's pockets. Plans to scrap it next year after 419 years of circulation touched off protests from members of Parliament, shopkeepers and the general public.

Save Our Sixpence, a group campaigning to retain the coin, contended that if it was abolished, the price of most sixpenny items would rise. The London transport authority said if the coin was retained it would cancel plans to raise the minimum bus and subway fare from sixpence to 12 cents. Officials said the increase was necessary to pay for new equipment to handle other coins.

Rogers told the House of Commons that the chancellor of the exchequer had asked the decimal currency board for a report on the situation by Easter.

ATTENDANCE UP AT CHICAGO MUSEUM

CHICAGO (AP) - Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, frequently termed the Windy City's "leading tourist attraction," hit a new attendance mark in 1969 with 3,261,983 viewing its exhibits.

Daniel M. MacMaster, the museum's president, said this was the fifth consecutive year during which attendance went over the three million mark.

The museum continued its extensive services as a practical aid to formal education in welcoming more than a half a million students in more than 10,000 organized groups from nearly every state in the country during the year.

Looking Back

Farewell Reception For Pastor

50 Years Ago
February 23, 1920
A farewell reception was given at the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening in honor of the Rev. S. P. Brite and his family, who leave on Monday afternoon for Laramie, Wyo., where Mr. Brite takes up his new work in that university city immediately.

James A. Hogan, died at his home on North street Wednesday morning of pneumonia, at the age of 51 years. He had formerly suffered an attack of influenza.

Two prominent Calloway County merchants, whose names were not announced, were in Sikeston this week and bought the 280-acre farm belonging to the estate of the late Claude Marshall for $185 per acre. This farm is located between Sikeston and Blodgett and is one of the best in that section. Another Calloway County party last week bought the Kluge farm of 140 acres a few miles south of Morley for $200 per acre.

L. E. Rambo and family have moved in the Wm. Fisher property on Gladys street. T. W. Kelley and wife move into the property vacated by Mr. Rambo.

Malone Theatre, today, "Pointed Heels" with Helen Kane, William Powell and Fay Wray. Tomorrow, Greta Garbo in "The Kiss" with Conrad Nagel and Holmes Herbert.

Miss Stella Willins, the world's fastest woman typist, will visit the Sikeston High School on Tuesday, it was announced Wednesday. She operated an Underwood typewriter and holds a record of 134 words per minute.

Morley-Mrs. Dora Congleton is reported on the sick list.

C. L. Malone, representative of The Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., has been informed by home office officials that he has qualified for membership in the Life Producers' Club of the company.

Mrs. W. T. Daughtery, one-time resident of Sikeston, died Saturday of injuries received in an automobile crash near Marion, Ky., according to word received here. She was the wife of Dr. W. T. Daughtery, under the graduates entry who practiced here for several years.

Charles' father, Prince Philip, King George VI, and George V, were all Royal Navy men.

Private Dinkle tried to make a name for himself, but the name wasn't his. As a result, he was charged with forgery. If Hoople was appointed to defend him at his court martial. For Hoople was a veterinarian.

"Somebody's kidding me," protested Dinkle at the opening of the court martial. "If I'm going to have to stand trial, I want a lawyer to defend me and not a horse doctor. After all, I'm charged with a crime and not with having hoof and mouth disease."

"In the army," Dinkle was informed, "all a soldier is entitled to at a court martial is an officer to defend him. And, you've got a good one. Hoople knows his oats."

Despite all his saying, however, Dinkle was forced to stand trial with Hoople at his side. Consequently, when he was convicted, he took the matter to a federal court and demanded his release from the stackade.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Dinkle's release for his having been saddled with a veterinarian as a lawyer?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that the 6th Amendment of the Constitution gives a soldier, as well as a civilian, the right to counsel when charged with a serious crime. And, concluded the judge, this presupposes that such counsel will be someone who has had some experience and training in the law. Merely being an officer is not sufficient to meet the constitutional requirements. (Based upon a 1966 United States District Court Decision)

Extra Blankets
Help Keep Prison
Inmates Warm

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Extra blankets helped keep inmates at the Church prison farm northwest of Jefferson City warm Wednesday night as temperatures dipped to around 10 above zero.

Fire destroyed the main boiler at the honor farm Tuesday night and a small auxiliary boiler provided the heat.

Warden Harold R. Swenson said it kept dormitories fairly comfortable although the offices were cold. Extra blankets-250 of them-were hauled to the farm so each inmate could have three blankets instead of two.

The Prayer
from
The Upper Room

"But I say to you, Do not resist one who is evil. But if any one strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also." (Matthew 5:39, RSV)

Prayer—Dear Father, to be called Thy children we need to have Thy nature, the nature of Thy Son, Teach us to order ourselves completely after Thyself may live in us. Amen.

A 1967 DATSUN driven by Sherman Stratton, 20, Quin, was one of five vehicles involved in a chain reaction collision three miles east of Wyatt on highway 60 Tuesday. Stratton was treated for bruises at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Emma Donnell represented Sikeston on the affirmative and C. D. Butler and William Marsh, the negative.

Mrs. Beulah Britton, 40, died early Sunday at her home west of Sikeston of a heart ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Foster of Matthews are parents of a son born at their home on Sunday.

Skelton, Gleason Not in CBS Fall Lineup

NEW YORK (AP) — Two CBS stalwarts, Red Skelton and Jackie Gleason, are not in the new fall schedule being wrapped up by the network.

At present, no negotiations are being conducted with the veteran entertainers and other shows have been penciled into their time slots.

It also was learned that despite rumors, Ed Sullivan, Lucille Ball, "Green Acres" and "Petticoat Junction" are in the schedule due to be announced within the next few days.

NBC has all but won the Nielsen ratings for this season, knocking CBS out of first place for the first time in 14 years.

Skelton, despite one of his highest ratings in years, fell victim to a concept that is becoming increasingly important to television: demographics, the breakdown of the viewing audience according to age, sex, income and other information of value to advertisers.

Advertisers are putting their money into programs that appeal to the 18-49 age bracket. These are the people who buy their products.

Skelton drew large household numbers, but too many of them were children or people over 49. Skelton, 66, was unavailable for comment.

Prince Charles Plans To Serve Navy Hith

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, 21-year-old heir to the British throne, has decided to do a hitch in the Royal Navy.

Buckingham Palace announced he will serve four months with the Royal Air Force after graduating from Cambridge University in June and will enter Dartmouth Naval College in September 1971.

If You Were the Judge

Veterinarian Not Adequate Counsel

Private Dinkle tried to make a name for himself, but the name wasn't his. As a result, he was charged with forgery. If Hoople was appointed to defend him at his court martial. For Hoople was a veterinarian.

"Somebody's kidding me," protested Dinkle at the opening of the court martial. "If I'm going to have to stand trial, I want a lawyer to defend me and not a horse doctor. After all, I'm charged with a crime and not with having hoof and mouth disease."

"In the army," Dinkle was informed, "all a soldier is entitled to at a court martial is an officer to defend him. And, you've got a good one. Hoople knows his oats."

Despite all his saying, however, Dinkle was forced to stand trial with Hoople at his side. Consequently, when he was convicted, he took the matter to a federal court and demanded his release from the stackade.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order Dinkle's release for his having been saddled with a veterinarian as a lawyer?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that the 6th Amendment of the Constitution gives a soldier, as well as a civilian, the right to counsel when charged with a serious crime. And, concluded the judge, this presupposes that such counsel will be someone who has had some experience and training in the law. Merely being an officer is not sufficient to meet the constitutional requirements. (Based upon a 1966 United States District Court Decision)

Extra Blankets
Help Keep Prison
Inmates Warm

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Extra blankets helped keep inmates at the Church prison farm northwest of Jefferson City warm Wednesday night as temperatures dipped to around 10 above zero.

Fire destroyed the main boiler at the honor farm Tuesday night and a small auxiliary boiler provided the heat.

Warden Harold R. Swenson said it kept dormitories fairly comfortable although the offices were cold. Extra blankets-250 of them-were hauled to the farm so each inmate could have three blankets instead of two.

New Tax Forms; Basically Old System It Pays To Itemize Your Deductions

EDITORS: Following is the first in a series of five articles entitled, "Coping With Your Income Taxes." They were written by AP staff writer John Pearce to help taxpayers prepare their 1969 tax returns.

By JOHN PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Coping with your 1969 income tax return, streamlined though it is, will be complicated enough without unnecessary worry. So the first step is to forget the big Tax Reform Act if you're a normal wage-earning taxpayer.

That includes the change in the surtax, which was 10 per cent for all of 1969, and must be paid even though it was cut to 5 per cent as of Jan. 1.

As in the past, your return must be in the hands of the Internal Revenue Service or postmarked by midnight April 15. But for the first time you won't have the option of using the long form 1040, or — if you had certain kinds of income and it was below $10,000 — the punchcard form 1040A.

Everyone this year will use a new form 1040 and add on other schedules as needed for itemizing deductions, listing income from dividends and interest, property transactions, and retirement plans.

Like last year, this year's form is red, white and blue. The snappy colors highlight those areas of the form where most errors are made. The signature line is played up, for instance, because millions of Americans sweat over their returns each year and then send them in unsigned.

Others forget to attach their W-2 forms — which should be clipped to the back of the form this year instead of to the front — or don't list their Social Security numbers. That oversight can cost a $5 penalty.

Most taxpayers who filed returns last year have been mailed a 32-page booklet containing all the necessary forms. It has a blue gummed label on it which should go back with the form in the envelope provided. It also contains the Social Security number, eliminating that problem for most.

If you used 1040A last year you'll find the front of the new 1040 asks for about the same information as both sides of the old form, and you probably can use it by itself. But the IRS found two things that some taxpayers using the punchcard form were denying themselves legitimate deductions; and that the punchcard prevented many otherwise eligible individuals from taking advantage of the lower rates for head of households or surviving spouses.

If you itemize deductions, had pension income or sold stock you'll have to add pages to the basic form using the IRS's "building block" method. Just tear out the sheets you need and discard the rest of the booklet — after reading the instructions and using the tax tables to figure what you owe or Uncle Sam owes you. But nearly half of the estimated 75 million taxpayers who file returns will need only the basic one-page form, the IRS estimates.

To figure your tax, use Schedule T in the back of the booklet. You keep it for your records instead of sending it in, unless you claim a retirement, investment or foreign tax credit or owe self-employment tax.

Adjusted gross income is a term thrown around a lot at income tax time, for it means total pay — not take-home pay — minus such things as sick pay, moving expenses, travel expenses and payments to self-employment retirement programs. If you claim these adjustments you must file a special form for each.

If you were under 65 years of age last year, you must file a tax return if you had gross income of $600 or more. If 65 or over, you have to file only if your gross income was $1,200 or more. But those with at least $400 of net earnings from self-employment must file and pay the self-employment tax.

U.S. citizens living abroad are subject to the same rules, except that their filing deadline is June 15 instead of April 15.

Vietnam is something else again. Servicemen and civilians in war-support roles don't have to file until 180 days after they leave Vietnam.

The tax return booklet has instructions on the back of each form, but if you need fuller instructions a good buy is the 160-page IRS booklet "Your Federal Income Tax," available for 60 cents at IRS offices.

The agency also has a brief, 31-page free booklet, called "Highlights of 1969 Changes in the Tax Law," which goes through the new changes the Tax Reform Bill made for 1969 and what you need to know in planning for this year.

Generally speaking, itemizing your deductions instead of simply taking a standard deduction is worth the additional trouble if you own a home, carry a substantial debt load, have above average child care or medical expenses, or give generously to charity.

Such outlays are deductible. In other words, they can be subtracted in whole or in part from your income as you report it for tax purposes, thus lessening the amount of it that will be taxable.

Most taxpayers who spend an hour or two plodding through such homework find they are well paid for listing their deductions. Others find it all too confusing, or know they have too few deductions to expect much of a payoff from listing them.

In that case, use one or the other of the standard deductions:

— a simple 10 per cent of the adjusted gross income figure you've entered on line 15c of your form, or — the "minimum standard deduction." In the case of married persons filing joint returns or unmarried persons, this is figured as

$200 plus $100 for each exemption (count one exemption apiece for yourself and every person you can claim as a dependent, plus another one for each exemption you get if you or your spouse were blind or over 65 at the end of last year).

The maximum for either standard deduction is $1,000 or $500 if married and filing separately.

Here again you get a chance to play something either of two ways. Don't just toss a coin. Do the arithmetic for both and use the one that results in the greater saving.

For example: A couple with two children and an adjusted gross income of $8,000 would have an $800 deduction if they take the 10 per cent deduction.

And they'd better, because if they settled for the minimum standard deduction — $200 plus four times $100 — it would come to only $600.

Once you've reached this point you have most of the heavy work behind you. But don't be in too big a hurry to get the return into the mail if time allows.

Let the completed form sit around the house for a few days and then go over it again line by line for errors. It's better that you catch errors instead of having the ever-watchful IRS computers find them.

Nonpublic School February Groups Accused Eye Donor Of Pressure Month

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A resolution deploring "pressure tactics" of those who favor permitting public school personnel to teach special classes in non public schools was adopted Monday by the St. Louis Baptist Ministers Conference.

Missouri Atty. Gen. John D. Danforth said in an opinion last month teachers paid with federal funds could teach special classes in private and parochial schools under certain conditions.

The State Board of Education, however, reaffirmed its policy of not using public funds and personnel in nonpublic schools.

The ministers' conference noted in its resolution that the Missouri Supreme Court ruled in 1966 public schools could not send teachers into nonpublic schools in a case involving speech teachers employed by the St. Louis County Special School District.

The Holy Name Society of Assumption Catholic Church in suburban Lemay wired President Richard M. Nixon last week asking his assistance in reversing the State Board of Education's policy.

Copies of the Baptist ministers' resolution said in part: "We deplore the pressure tactics of groups seeking to get public money for maintaining sectarian education by devious efforts to destroy the provisions for separation of church and state as provided in our state and federal constitutions."

Copies were sent to the State Board of Education and State Superintendent of Instruction, Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and President Nixon.

Heart Testing Program for Schools Begins

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—A Heart testing program for 3,000 students in the Joplin area began this week under the sponsorship of the Missouri Heart Association.

Members of the first, fifth and ninth grades are scheduled for testing during the three-week program, which is a pilot project. Student participation is voluntary.

Conducting the tests are three teams from the Heart Association staff in Jefferson City under the direction of Miss Connie Daugherty, R.N.

A total of 70,000 children across the state are to be tested during the three-year period.

Tests are also to be conducted in Cape Girardeau, St. Joseph, Lutesville - Marble Hill, Jefferson City, Columbia, Centralia, Springfield, Golden City, Ava and Princeton.

ROLLA - February has been designated as Eye Donor Month. During the month Missouri Lions Clubs are carrying out a statewide campaign to interest people in pledging their eyes to the Eye Tissue Bank at the University of Missouri Medical Center.

The bank is the focal point of the sight-saving program. Opened in 1960, it is supported by funds from the Missouri Lions Clubs, with the University providing the space, some of the equipment, and part of the professional staff.

Sight conservation has long been a leading project of Lions International, and today's medical and surgical techniques make possible the transfer of the eyes of a deceased person to a living person to restore failing sight or sight that has been completely lost.

Eyes donated to the eye bank are processed for immediate use, for long term storage for use when needed, and for research. Fresh or preserved tissue from the Eye Tissue Bank is provided on request to physicians throughout the State and Nation. The donor's age, sex, race, or blood type make little difference in the value of eyes donated to the Lions Eye Tissue Bank for sight-saving uses under the eye-bank program. There is no charge to patients for the material.

Any person who, by law, has the right to control the disposition of the remains of the deceased person may give consent for the removal and use of the eyes of the deceased. Forms for this purpose are available in all Lions Eye Tissue Banks Kits located in the official collection substations scattered throughout the State of Missouri.

Eye donor cards are available from members of the Lions Clubs scattered throughout the state, or interested persons may write to the Administrative Assistant, Lions Eye Tissue Bank, University of Missouri Medical Center, Columbia, Missouri 65201. Anyone interested in receiving additional information concerning the Eye Tissue Bank and the Donor Card Program may contact President John P. Duncan, Sikeston Lions Club and President Bill Heney, Oran Lions club.
